Fraud and Phishing Notice

Online statements (or e-Documents) are eco-friendly, help reduce clutter and offer a number of advantages over traditional paper statements:

- Free and accessible anytime, anywhere, from your online banking account
- Available immediately—no need to wait for the mail
- Easy to save or print PDF files of your statements
- Useful for taxes and other record-keeping purposes
- An email alert to notify you once your statement is available

- Reduces the risk of identity theft and mail fraud by eliminating paper copies

You can setup online statements on your internet banking or stop by or call the Credit Union at (540) 932-4590.

The holidays may be over, but scammers don't take breaks

Four scams to watch for after the holidays:

1. Charity scams

More charity donations are made the last two days of each December than there are all year. Scammers know that more charity donations are made the last two days of December than the rest of the year and will use bogus charities, look-alike sites, and fraudulent fundraising schemes. When giving to charity this time of year, be extra cautious. Consider giving to a specific cause and contact them personally instead of clicking on an ad that allegedly represents them.

2. Bargain-priced gifts for sale

The weeks following the holidays bring a rush of scams on resale sites like Craigslist and eBay. Typically, you'll see a listing of an expensive item priced at a fraction of its real cost. Of course, when it's too good to be true, you're likely looking at a scam. If you agree to purchase the item, it will probably never arrive in the mail and you won't see your money again. Ask for the seller's address and/or references, agree to meet in a well-lit and populated area, preferably one with security-camera coverage. Use cash only for your purchases.

3. Belated holiday e-cards

Late holiday cards are normal for January; however, holiday email cards may be the work of scammers. These fake virtual greetings are often loaded with malware that will infect your device. Don't assume that every belated holiday e-card you receive is legitimate, even if it appears to be sent from your friend. An authentic e-card will include a confirmation code for you to copy and paste to the associated website. If you receive a late e-card without such a code, do not open it. Delete the email and mark it as spam.

4. Post-holiday sales

January is famous for sales and scammers may be working off a bogus site, or targeting victims with emails that advertise "sales," but are actually malware. Look for the "s" after the "http," and check for the lock icon in the URL. If the site represents a well-known retailer, check to see if there are any spelling mistakes in the URL. Words like "deal" and "sale" should not appear in the URL; if they do, you're likely looking at a scam. Never download an attachment or click on a link in an email from an unverified sender. Stay alert and stay safe!

If you're willing to make a personal commitment to attend and actively participate in Board activities, we would love to hear from you!

If you would like more information on any of these positions, please contact AHCCU at (540) 932-4590 or email Mary King at mking@augustahealth.com.
